

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

MRS. MARY H. MILLER

MRS. MARY H. MILLER.

It becomes the librarian's sad duty to chronicle the decease of another ex-librarian of the State of Iowa. Mrs. Mary H. Miller was appointed State Librarian by Governor Larrabee, succeeding Mrs. Maxwell, who survived her a few months. Mrs. Miller did not share the usual fate of the State librarian prior to the elimination of the office from "practical politics." Though appointed by a republican, the election of Horace Boies, democrat, to the gubernatorial office did not result in her removal as was anticipated. Mrs. Miller held her office until the inauguration of Governor Jackson when Mrs. Creighton was appointed to succeed her.

Mary H. MacGinitie was born in Clarion county, Pennsylvania, July 24, 1842. She came to Iowa in 1865 and taught in the public schools of Eddyville and Ottumwa. In 1867 she married Lieut. Samuel Newell Miller of the 4th Iowa Cavalry. Her husband died in 1872. After his death she taught for a time in the Des Moines schools, resigning to take the position of State Librarian in 1888. In 1896, sometime after having completed her third term as librarian, she became matron of the Business Women's Home in Des Moines, in which position she so thoroughly demonstrated her fitness for the work that two years later she was appointed by Colonel Horton matron of the Soldiers' Home at Marshalltown. She served in that capacity with honor to herself and credit to the state until failing health compelled her to resign. She died in Des Moines at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Wilbur Beebe, on the 28th of March, 1904.

Mrs. Miller, though not trained to library work, soon acquired the many details of her duties as State Librarian, and her conscientious, painstaking service did much to strengthen the library in the estimation of legislators, students and the general public. Soon after entering upon library work Mrs. Miller joined the American Library Association and thus placed herself and the library in close touch with the library movement of her time. She took active part in the earlier sessions of the Iowa Library Association, was its first president and was one of its most influential members. Mrs. Miller had a clear intellectual grasp and good administrative ability. Though devoted to her own church, the Presbyterian, she was broad in her religious views and liberal in her opinions. Her public career was marked by the rare combination of intense energy and excellent judgment. She had many friends throughout the State to whom her memory is precious. Mrs. Miller left no children. Her only child, Frank C. Miller, died in 1896. She was buried beside her husband and son in Eddyville, Iowa.

Captain W. H. Johnston, of Fort Dodge, a member of the Iowa Library Commission and the Nestor of the State Library Association, writing to Miss Winterrowd of Des Moines, thus refers to Mrs. Miller:

"I have vivid recollections of the many pleasant occasions when Mrs. Miller, as State Librarian, was virtually hostess of the librarians of Iowa and of the many occasions afterward when I met her at library meetings in which she still evinced her interest in the work. My last recollection is associated with the library conference in Marshalltown, at which time I called on her at the Soldiers' Home and found her, though very ill, as ever interested in Library work and thoughtful of others rather than herself. Will you please convey to Mrs. Beebe my high appreciation of her sister and of the work done by her in and for the State of Iowa, and assure her that Mrs. Miller will ever hold high place in the hearts of Iowa librarians."

MRS. SARAH B. MAXWELL

MRS. SARA B. MAXWELL.

Still another ex-state Librarian has passed away since the present Librarian's last report was issued. Mrs. Sara B. Maxwell died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emil Poerstel, in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, October 12, 1904. She was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, February 12, 1837, and was consequently sixty-seven years old at the time of her death. In 1863, she removed with her husband, William Maxwell, to Panora, Iowa. Mr. Maxwell served for two years as clerk of the District Court in Guthrie county and was a member of the Fourteenth General Assembly of Iowa. In 1878 occurred a tragedy which saddened Mrs. Maxwell's whole after-life. While in New Mexico, to which Territory he had gone to establish a ranch, Mr. Maxwell and his son were murdered. The details of the tragedy are still wrapped in mystery.

The year after her sad bereavement Mrs. Maxwell was appointed by Governor Gear to the office of State Librarian, succeeding Mrs. Ada North. Though the position was then said to be "in politics" so efficient and successful was the appointee that she remained undisturbed in her office until 1888. Her term of service was marked by conscientious and resultful efforts to raise the standard of the library and to increase its usefulness. During her term she made the first list of books and pamphlets written by Iowa authors, which was part of Iowa's exhibit at the Chicago Exposition in 1893, and has been the basis of subsequent lists.

Mrs. Maxwell was the author of the Centennial history of Guthrie county, published in 1876, also of a useful work entitled Social Forms and usages. In 1888, she was succeeded in office by Mrs. Mary H. Miller, a sketch of whose life appears on a preceding page of this report. In 1897, Mrs. Maxwell was elected librarian of the Unitarian Theological School in Meadville, Pennsylvania. This position she retained until a short time prior to her death. Two daughters, Mrs. Emil Poerstel and Mrs. Jessie Weaver survive her.

During her term of service as State Librarian, and later as college librarian, Mrs. Maxwell took deep interest in library organizations and whenever possible attended the meetings of the American Library Association. She was one of the pioneers of the Iowa Library Association and an active and influential member of that body.

Mrs. Maxwell brought to her public duties a keenly intelligent and well trained mind and a rare degree of conscientiousness.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF STATE LIBRARIAN,
DES MOINES, IOWA, OCTOBER 31, 1905.

To the Honorable Albert B. Cummins, Governor of Iowa and President of the Board of Trustees of the Iowa State Library:

SIR: I have the honor to submit for your consideration the thirtieth Biennial Report of the librarian of the Iowa State Library, covering a period included between the thirtieth day of June, 1903, and the first day of July, 1905.

At the close of the twenty-ninth biennial period there were of record books in the State Library proper..... 77,422
Also, unaccessioned pamphlets in the document section..... 6,124
_____ 83,546

Books Since Last Report.

To this number have been added during the period now closed—To the Miscellaneous Department:

By exchange and gift..... 2,048
_____ 6,677

Withdrawn..... 2

Making the new addition..... 6,675

To the Law Department have been added:

By purchase..... 1,163
By exchange..... 687
_____ 1,850

Total in both departments..... 8,525

These accessions make the total in the State Library proper, (independent of the Historical Department)..... 92,071

Unaccessioned pamphlets adding during the period..... 1,171
Making a total of accessioned and unaccessioned books and pamphlets in the State Library proper..... 93,242

To these should be added total of books and pamphlets of record in the Historical Department, exclusive of newspaper volumes, as per recent report of the Curator..... 14,182

The Grand Total of the three Departments is..... 107,424

During the last two years the policy of grouping pamphlets under some one general head, binding them in book form and shelf-listing same has been thoroughly and systematically carried out. The consequence is that hundreds of valuable pamphlets heretofore inaccessible can now be traced at once, by means of the card catalogue, to their places on the shelves; thus greatly facilitating the endeavor of the student of themes and of affairs to find the valuable subject matter included in pamphlet literature and oftentimes not to be found elsewhere. Meantime we are continuing the policy, now fully approved by experience, of placing upon the shelves, with books of their respective classes, the many temporarily valuable pamphlets which come to us through the mails and otherwise, leaving to the future a determination of their relative value. Several librarians in other states have since adopted this method of handling pamphlets, thus readily, and thus far satisfactorily, solving one of the most perplexing problems of library administration.

Recent Purchases.

The accessions of both new and out-of-print books, during the past two years, as shown by the list appended to this report have greatly strengthened the library as a source of information and inspiration. Not a few broken sets have been filled and others have been materially strengthened. The new books have been selected with the utmost care from a study of catalogues and reviews and have been brought together from all the great book markets of the world.

Exchanges with State Institutions, etc.

During the past two years I have inaugurated an extensive system of book, periodical and document exchange with the State University library, the library of the State Historical Society, and the library of the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. By this system all parties to the exchange have been materially benefited and the reference libraries of the state have been correspondingly strengthened. To illustrate:

The library of the State Historical Society has received on exchange account thirty-six volumes and numbers and has reciprocated by sending to the State Library sixty-six volumes and numbers and will follow these with others at no distant date. To further illustrate: The State University library is in receipt of fourteen volumes of Poore's Railroad Manual, the price of which is ten dollars a volume. These came to the library, as duplicates, from the Iowa Department of Agriculture. The exchange is not confined to State Institutions. The State Library, with the aid of the Library Commission, has recently sent to the library of the University of Chicago, a number of periodicals and in return is about to receive a long list of valuable documents and works. All these exchanges are effected with no other expense than that of carriage. The Library of Congress is also in our debt for duplicate copies of periodicals and is from time to time paying the debt by meeting our draft on its duplicate list of periodicals.

It is my purpose to co-operate with all institutions having duplicate lists from which we may draw. For, in the purchase of material with which to fill sets in the library—especially at auction sales—it is inevitable that duplicates are acquired. These would be comparatively valueless but for some system of exchange such as has been inaugurated.

Completion of the new Building.

As stated in my last report, the law consolidating the Miscellaneous portion of the State Library with the Historical Department could not be carried out, so far as relates to the actual transfer of all the books in the Miscellaneous Department from the State Library to the west wing of the new building occupied by the Historical Department, owing to want of space in that wing of the new building. Permit me to urge upon the 31st General Assembly, on reassembling in January, 1906, the desirability of giving early attention to the necessity which recent legislation has imposed—and which is emphasized by the growing necessity of a Hall of Archives, and the increasing needs of the Historical Department and of the Miscellaneous and Law Departments as well—namely: an appropriation ample for the speedy completion and furnishing of the new building.

Acknowledgments.

I take pleasure in acknowledging the uniform courtesy which the president and members of the Library Board have accorded me in furthering my plans for the upbuilding of the State Library and the wise counsel and generous aid rendered me by Curators Aldrich and Small, and by my library assistants, Miss Lee, Mrs. Russell, Miss Rosemond, and Miss Steele.

The Seventh biennial report of the Curator of the Historical Department is to appear, as previous reports of that Department have appeared, under separate cover.

The Second biennial report of the Curator of the Law Department is herewith appended.

I also append herewith a financial statement covering the receipts and expenditures of the several departments during the biennial period; also a list of accessions to the Miscellaneous Department, and a list of accessions to the Law Department, during the last biennial period.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHNSON BRIGHAM,

State Librarian.

Hon. Johnson Brigham,
State Librarian.

DEAR SIR:—We are pleased to report a gratifying increase in the law department, though a few short in the number of volumes purchased compared with the biennial preceding. This may be accounted for in the purchase of quite a few expensive out of print volumes. We have been obliged to decline the offer of several rare editions on account of lack of funds; and I regret that our appropriation is not larger that we might secure these rare and valuable law books which are seldom offered for sale.

Literature of the Law

Our section of the literature of the law is now past the probation period; it is now in fact one of the most interesting sections in the library, where the lawyer or student may find much of the best of law literature, history and jurisprudence. We have not confined our efforts to any particular line but making it general so as to supply the needs of all.

Cataloguing.

We have continued in the plan outlined in our report of two years ago, though the progress is slow; however we have progressed steadily keeping all the new works up to date and gradually working back into earlier volumes. Perhaps the most satisfactory showing is the practically completing the card index to the table of cases in the Abstracts and Arguments which meant the page by page examination of over eleven hundred volumes and the making of over ten thousand cards. Also, we are making a card index to all the leading articles in the current law periodicals.

Exchanges.

An effort is still being made to get all statutes, laws, law reports, etc., by exchange; quite a good number have been added to this list during the past two years, though in some cases with much difficulty; but by persistent effort we hope to gradually place many of the now purchased volumes to the exchange account.

Binding.

In a library of so many volumes of books bound in sheep which have been in use for so long a term of years, the bindings constantly being broken through use or crumbling from lack of use, it became apparent that a more durable binding should be had, and by recommendation of the book committee we are now adopting buckram in the place of sheep where it is practical and thus far it is proving satisfactory.

Conclusion.

I am under many obligations to you for generous advice in making my work possible and pleasant; and to my associates in the library I feel grateful for ever lending a helping hand; and especially to Mrs. Florence A. Russell, who does all the cataloguing for the law department and who otherwise renders valuable service to the library. Very respectfully,

A. J. SMALL,
Curator Law Department.

Additions to The General Library, June 30, 1903, to June 30, 1905.

Explanation.

This list is on the same general plan as that published two years ago.

The list of publications of governments and states is now printed separately, not in the classified list as heretofore. Excepted from this list, for the greater convenience of students and specialists, are the geological reports; also other scientific reports and industrial reports by states; also special monographs on various subjects, all of which are included in the class list.

The author index is especially strong in full names since it is designed to serve as a reference book for cataloguers whose reference works are limited in number. The general use of this bulletin by the librarians of the state leads to the conclusion that progress along uniform lines of development and classification is well begun in Iowa.

The class list is arranged numerically, according to class number, and the author index is in alphabetical order. The order of subjects in the class list is described in the outline of classification which precedes the class list.
